ARREST IN KINSTON

G. S. Longfellow, Formerly of Wilmington, is Seriously Charged.

TAKEN ON BENCH WARRANT

Has Wife and Child in This City—Mrs. Longfellow Identifies Her Husband—No Record of Second Marriage.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Kinston, N. C., May 19.—A sensational arrest was made in this city last night when Sheriff Nunn arrested Mr. G. S. Longfellow, formerly of Wilmington, on a charge of bigamy. The arrest was made at Hotel Caswell just as Mr. Longfellow had paid his bill preparatory to leaving the city, on a bench warrant issued by Judge W. R. Allen upon information from Wilmington.

On May 6th it was announced in the Kinston local paper that Mr. Longfellow and Miss Bruce Swift, of Kinston, had been married in Norfolk, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Wingate, of the Baptist church. It develops that Mr. Longfellow has a wife and child in Wilmington, hence the arrest. Longfellow spent last night and today in jail pending a preliminary trial which will be held tomorrow. Miss Swift, or Mrs. Longfellow, No. 2, was at Seven Springs yesterday, but came to the city this morning. She says that they were married as stated by Rev. Mr. Wingate in the presence of two witnesses, Lantham and Cooper. Longfellow when arrested said that he and Miss Swift are not and have never been married.

"Records here show no such marriage, no Norfolk identification of Rev. Wingate."

Mrs. Longfellow No. 1, arrived in the city this afternoon from Wilmington to be present at the trial tomorrow. She said when approached, "I have nothing to say against my husband but that he has treated me wrongly." Miss Swift is of a family of high standing socially and is a beautiful and refined young lady, daughter of the late W. C. Swift, of this city. She and her family are prostrated over the affair. It is hard to tell what facts will be brought out at the trial tomorrow, but the Norfolk telegram indicates a deception by a mock marriage and in either case a serious charge rests against the young man.

Oates, editor of the Index, awarded the medals and ex-Senator J. M. Lamb the diplomas.

Mr. Leonard Tufts, of Pinehurst, was the guest of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce today when the great Atlanta Journal-New York Herald automobile road was considered, especially the phase of it that proposes that the great highway connect the two great cities of the country shall pass trough the capitals of the States traversed, Mr. Tuft's address showed that the highway could be constructed through the sand section of this State through Raleigh at a cost of about $300, whereas it would cost about $3,000 per mile to get through the Piedmont section, and that the counties and towns on the route would largely build the road so that not over $20,000 would have to be raised from general sources in crossing this State. The Raleigh Chamber of Commerce pledged the fullest possible co-operation and will take the initiative in uniting organizations of North Carolina towns and counties on the proposed route.

A report comes from Gaston county to the State Department of Education that five out of six elections for local tax for the improvement of public schools have been carried since May 1st, the election lost having been at Lowell.

SUGAR TRUST IS DENOUNCED

Sharp Tilt in the Senate Between Gray and Smoot—Georgia Senator Spoke in Interest of Consumers—Agreement.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 19—Declaring that Joseph F. Smith, the head of the Mormon church, fixes the price of beets in the interests of the beet sugar factories of Utah rather than in favor of the producers o fbeets, Sentor Gray in the Senate today called forth a characterization of his statement as "absolutely untrue" by Senator Smoot himself an official of the Mormon church. The Georgia Senator declared that as president of the beet sugar factories of Utah, Joseph F. Smith received a salary of $20,000 a year and that every year "he fixes the price of beets."

"He is always in favor of the factories and against the growers," said Mr. Clay, which Mr. Smoot denies.

Mr. Clay declared that as the votes that had been taken on the schedules of the tariff bill demonstrated that the Finance Committee had full power to obtain agreement on its bill, he favored an early vote on the bill because he regarded delay as useless.

Senator Paynter sought to reduce the duty on linotype and other type setting machines from 30 per cent ad valorem as provided in the tariff bill to 10 per cent advalorem. By a vote of 35 to 43 the amendment was rejected.

All sections of the metal schedule were agreed to before adjournment and Mr. Aldrich announced that tomorrow he would take up Sections previously passed over in the chemical schedule.

TAFT AT UNVEILING

A Re-union of the North and South Keynote of the President's Speech.

A GUEST OF PETERSBURG

Monument to the Veterans of the Key-Stone State—Historical and Notable Event—Thousands Thronged the City.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Petersburg, Va., May 19.—Driving over historic roads and battlefields through clouds of choking white dust which at times resembled the windblown smoke of battle; attending the unveiling of a shaft of granite and an heroic figure in bronz placed on the bloody battlegrounds of Fort Mahone to commemorate the valor and heroism of General John F. Hartraft and the Pennsylvania soldiers who made up the Third Division of the Ninth corps of the Union Army; addressing there a notable gathering in the blue of the North and the gray of the South; acclaimed through the thronged streets of Petersburg in the most splendid greeting he has had since his inauguration; the honor guest at an alfresco luncheon served on the magnificent oak-shaded lawns of one of the most beautiful old homes in all the Southland, and finally standing on a knoll of Center Hil mansion facing a multitude, which apparently represented all of Petersburg, and a goodly portion of many of the surrounding cities and making an earnest plea in the long Summer twilight following the setting of the sun for self-sacrificing and non-partisan support for the re-united and common country, President Taft had today one of the most unique experiences that ever befall a chief executive of the Nation.

"It had been a great day," he declared, "not alone for Petersburg, for Pennsylvania or Virginia, but in the history of the whole country; a day which will conduct to a greater union—a day to make stronger our common love for our common country for which all of us, when necessary, are ready to die."

The President's speech at the Pennsylvania memorial, was the base of which were gathered many of the veterans of the Key-Stone State and of Virginia, who fought the battles that made the enduring shaft significant, was a studied tribute to the North and to the South. Mr. Taft was unstinted in his recognition of the heroic deeds of both sides. For every eulogy of the Northern men, he had an equally glowing tribute for those who fought under the Stars and Bars. The "common heritage of heroism" was his theme. Enduring good, he believed, had come from the strife which had been inevitable. In his later speech, however, when he had ceased to be the guest of Pennsylvania and had been taken in charge by the people of the Virginian commonwealth, extemporaneously addressing a multiture which surprised the President himself in its size and effervescent enthusiasm, Mr. Taft beginning in a humorous vein by twitting the Governor of Virginia, Mr. Swanson, on the rare gift of being able to make four speeches in one day, suddenly became serious and for 15 minutes held his audience in a silent attention that was deeply impressive, as he outlined in a general way his ideas of a citizenship which in the North and South alike should carry the country forward to permanence of prosperity and everglorious future.

There was just a touch of politics in this latter speech for which the President first made apology. It was a day, he declared to forget politics. When he did lapse into the subject of partisan government, the President spoke broadly. He urged the Southern people to direct themselves toward an intelligent and healthy opposition. He believed in two opposing parties, he said, with a fighting nucleus in every State of the Union, "to make the party in power do business properly."

The President could not refrain from turning the laugh upon a member of Southern Congressmen, who were present, by a comment upon the attitude of the Democrats in the tariff fight.

"I'm not going to say," he laughingly declared, "that tariff for revenue only and tariff for the purposes of protection are one and the same thing when they both reach the same amount. But when a Congressman from Alabama favors a $2 tariff on lumber for revenue, and a Congressman from Washington or Oregon favors a $2 tariff on lumber for protection, they haven't any great amount of dispute between them. Personally I am not in favor of a $2 tariff on lumber for any purpose. But it all means, my friends, that we are working closer and closer together along different routes. The Southern Congressman who have been sharply criticised by their home papers for deserting the sacred principles of free trade come about as close to knowing what their constituents at home want as do the leading papers of the same community. This again is but a further illustration of the fact that we are getting together."

As the President stood addressing

H. H. ROGERS DEAD

Well Known Financier and Oil Magnate Dies Suddenly From Apoplexy.

BUILT VIRGINIAN RAILROAD

He Was Prominent Factor in Financial World for Years—Shock to Friends and Business Associates—The Funeral.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 19.—Henry H. Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil Co., moving spirit in the organization of the Amalgamated Copper Co., builder of railroads and philanthropist, died at his home here at 7:20 o'clock this morning from a stroke of apoplexy.

Death came about an hour after Mr. Rogers had risen for the day, mentioning to his wife that he was feeling ill. At 7 o'clock he lapsed into unconsciousness and before the family physician arrived he was dead. Mr. Rogers was 69 years old. Mrs. Rogers, three married daughters, a son, H. H. Rogers, Jr., and Dr. W. G. Pulley, a physician, who was hastily summoned, were at the bedside when the end came.

While Mr. Rogers' death was unexpected he had been in indifferent health since he suffered an apoplectic stroke in 1907 and was almost constantly under a physician's care. His end, however, was a great shock to his family and business associates, as yesterday and last evening he was cheerful and apparently normal. He went down to business yesterday, lunching as usual in the Standard Oil building. In the evening he visited the homes in this vicinity of two of his sons-in-law, Irben H. Broughton and William R. Coe, where he played with his grand-children and later returned to his home for what proved his last mortal sleep.

Final arrangements for the funeral had not been completed tonight but it has been decided to hold services at the church of the Messiah, a Unitarian institution, of which te Rev. Dr. Robert Collyer, a lifelong friend of Mr. Rogers, is pastor, Friday morning. Dr. Collyer will conduct the services after which the body will be taken to Fair Haven, Mass., Mr. Rogers' native town, for interment. Services also will be held there in the Unitarian church on Saturday. The list of pall-bearers has not been made public yet.

News of the financier's death did not become generally known till about two hours after it occurred. There was hardly an appreciable effect on the market when Wall street opened. After a decline at first in the stocks in which he was popularly supposed to be interested, conditions rapidly adjusted themselves, confirming in a way that Mr. Rogers had in the last few months anticipated death and withdrawn from the market. He had taken steps to safeguard his interests by placing his direct holdings in various corporations in other hands. Close friends of the family were inclined to think that his business will fall to his son-in-law, Urben H. Broughton.

The Rogers home tonight is silent save for the muffled tread of prominent callers who began arriving early to extend their sympathy to the widow and children. Conspicuous among these early callers was Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) for many years one of the most intimate friends of the late financier. Mr. Clemens left his country place near Redding, Conn., this morning, intending to visit the Rogers home, only to be confronted with the sad news of his old friend's death when he arrived at the Grand Central station. Mr. Clemens was too moved to fully express his feelings.

"It is terrible—terrible," he said. "I am inexpressibly shocked." With tears in his eyes he quickly moved away and hurried to the Broughton residence where he joined a number of Mr. Rogers' associates who had gathered there.

Henry C. Phips was one of the first to arrive at the residence and he was followed shortly by John D. Ryan, president of the Anaconda Copper Co. Telegrams soon began pouring into the house, among the early ones being a message from John D. Rockefeller at Hot Springs, Va., who had repeatedly warned Mr. Rogers to cease his hard work. Thomas F. Ryan was notified of Mr. Rogers' death as he was sailing for Europe on the Lusitania. "The financial world loses one of its greatest men," he said, "and the financial world will be greatly shocked."

Ryan Probable Successor.

The directors of the Standard Oil Co., met this morning but took no formal action with regard to Mr. Rogers' demise. Standard Oil stock opened unchanged on the curb and it is understood that the conditions of the Virginian Railway, which Mr. Rogers opened recently, is such that its prosperity will not be affected.

John D. Ryan probably will succeed Mr. Rogers to the presidency of the Amalgamated Copper Company.

Henry H. Rogers was one of the most successful men of the so-called Standard Oil group. He began life as a poor boy at Fair Haven, Mass., where he was born and retained his legal residence there until the day of his death. He is variously reported as having commenced life as a newsboy and as a driver of a grocery cart. Mr. Rogers was a man of many friends and an enthusiastic yachtsman.

Leaves a Vast Fortune.

Until recently he had held the reins of the Standard Oil Company following the retirement of John. D. Rockefeller, although J. D. Archbold attended to the routine management of the corporation. His fortune is variously estimated at from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 which will make his son, H. H. Rogers, Jr., one of the richest men in the country. Mr. Rogers' first wife died fourteen years ago and he is survived in addition to his second wife by four children, the son mentioned and the following daughters: Mrs. W. E. Benjamin, Mrs. Urben H. Broughten and Mrs. William R. Coe.

—Concord Times: Mr. J. L. Shinn has near his place at Georgeville a rack across Buffalo creek, which is used to catch fish during high waters. The rack is in a branch which opens into the creek. During the high waters fish go up the branch and just before the water begins to fall the gate is shut down and the fish cannot get back. When the water recedes they are left high and dry and are then taken out. On Monday of last week Mr. Shinn caught 60 pounds of fine German carp. The average weight of the fish was about six pounds, though some of them weighed as much as nine pounds.

TAFT IN CHARLOTTE TODAY

Great May Twentieth Celebration Interferred With by Rain—Programme of Events Arranged For The Visit Today.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Charlotte, N. C., May 19.—On the eve of President Taft's visit to the city thousands are pouring into Charlotte on every train and barring rain, which is predicted, the celebration tomorrow will be the greatest in the city's history.

The arrival of the Presidential train at 10 o'clock will be announced by an artillery salute of 21 guns. Committees of distinguished citizens will escort the President to the Selkyn Hotel where, with Mrs. Stonewall Jackson and a delegation of Union and Confederate Veterans as a guest of honor, he will proceed to the reviewing stand to review a monster civic and military parade.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon he will address the people from the reviewing stand and later will talk to the students of Biddle University, a negro institution. A reception to the public generally in the evening in the parlors of the Selwyn Hotel will bring to an end the day's programme and at 10:30 o'clock the President will leave for Washington.

Governor Kitchin will introduce the President on the occasion of both addresses. Rain marred a portion of the programme this afternoon, though the regular troops carried out their part of the exercises and thousands defied the elements to view their evolutions.

O'BRIEN IS JOHNSON'S EQUAL

Six-Round Bout in Philadelphia Declared a Draw Last Night—Negro Champion Appeared to be Out of Condition.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, May 19.—Jack Johnson, the big colored pugilist, failed to win over Jack O'Brien, the Philadelphia light-heavy weight tonight in a six-round bout. The fight was even and the consensus of opinion was that it should have been a draw, had a decision been permissible. O'Brien marvelously fast foot work and his superior blocking saved him from damage in several close mixes and three times he was forced to his knees by the negro's great strength and weight in the clinches.

It was a fast fight, O'Brien doing the most leading. Johnson was slow on his feet, and appeared not to be in good condition. Repeatedly the champion rushed his smaller antagonist, but seldom landed effectively.

O'Brien was in and out like a flash in nearly every round, stabbing Johnson on the face, but the blows lacked force and had no effect other than to make the big black man grin and wave his hand at the crowd. The spectators shouted wildly every time O'Brien landed and hooted Johnson for his apparent rough work in the clinches.

Referee McGuigan said afterwards that O'Brien did remarkably well. He weighed 162 1-2 pounds while Johnson's acknowledged weight was 205.

Johnson had nothing to say except the fourth round and O'Brien appeared confident throughout the bout. He certainly fought a game fight," said McGuigan.

John son had nothing to say except that he thought he had the better of it. O'Brien was enthusiastic over his showing.

Wilson, N. C., May 19.—Wilmington's inability to hit Lane, Smith's errors and heavy hitting by the Tobacconists cost the Sailors the game this afternoon. Bird, for the locals, developed into a wonder with the stick, having hit Levy for four singles out of four times at the bat.

Only Sharp, Fox and Riley were able to connect with Lane of the entire outfit of Sailors, while Levy was touched up for eight and issued free transportation to four. The game was a good one in many respects but the visitors could not solve the delivery of Lane and errors counted heavily against them. Nothing is known here of the report that the National Commission has awarded Yerkes to Wilmington and he leaves with the team tomorrow morning for Fayetteville.

Streaser and Wolf, first up for Wilmington, were out third to first and short to first and Sharpe followed with a single to right, which looked encouraging to the Sailors, until Sharpe was caught trying to steal second after Captain Smith was up. For Wilson, Moore drew a pass after two strikes had been called, but was caught napping at first while Buhrman was going out second to first and Yerkes was out short to first.

In the second inning after Smith flew out to left, Fox led off to right for two bases, but Doak following him, fanned; Riley drew a pass but Fox was out trying to steal third. For Wilson Miller hit out to first; Armstrong singled to left but Gilmore and the side was retired on a hit to Captain Smith, who executed a beautiful double.

In the third Jayes and Streaser were out pitcher to first and Levy third to first. Bird, for Wilson, singled to left; Guerrant fouled out to catcher; Bird was caught napping on first and Lane flew out to short.

In the fourth, Wolfe fanned; Sharpe was out second to first and Smith flew out to center. For Wilson Moore drew another pass; Buhrman sacrificed.; Yerkes was out third to first; Miller hit to third, who threw wild to first and Moore scored. Gilmore fanned.

In the fifth Fox was safe on error of second; Doak sacrificed and Riley scored the single run of the game on Riley's neat placement in centrefield. Riley was out trying to steal second and Jayes fanned. For Wilson Bird singled to left; Guerrant sacrificed; Lane flew out to first; Moore hit to Riley, who muffed, and Bird scored. Moore was out trying to steal second.

In the sixth, Levy, Streaser and Wolfe were out in order, short to first. For Wilson Buhrman was out second to first; Yerkes walked; Miller fanned; Armstrong was safe on error of short and stole second but Gilmore was out third to first.

In the seventh Sharpe was out at first; Smith on foul to third and Fox fanned. Bird made another safety for Wilson and was sacrificed by Guerrant; Lane flew out to left and Moore walked again. Buhrman hit to left for two sacks, scoring Bird and Moore while Buhrman scored a moment later on Yerkes' hit to centre. Miller flew out to center.

Wilmington's eighth was an out short to first for Doak, a fan for Riley and out for Jayes, pitcher to first. For Wilson, Armstrong and Gilmore made gyrations at Levy's deceptions and Bird was safe on error of short but was caught trying second.

In the ninth Levy was out third to first, but Streaser was safe on catcher's muff and stole second; Wolfe out pitcher to first and Sharpe flew out to third. Wilson did not care for more and the game ended with the Sailors beating a hasty retreat for a freight, which they caught for home tonight in order to be in trim for the Goldsboro Giants tomorrow.

PROTECTION THAT DOESN'T PROTECT.

That protection cheapens products is one of the arguments put up by some of the protection Senators in the tariff debate last week. Such an argument will, however, not be swallowed by consumers.

Senator Scott, of West Virginia, was one of the Senators who argued a few days ago that protection cheapens products for the consumers . If that were so as a general thing, it would seem that the manufacturers would fight protection, because if it cheapens their products they would not want it. Senator Scott urged that protection keeps out foreign products so that they cannot compete with our home products, thus enabling home manufactories to spring up and compete with each other to such an extent that prices go down to the lowest limit. However, American consumers are fully aware of the fact that a high tariff does shut out foreign products, thus preventing competition in trade from abroad. Then the home manufacturers combine and form a trust which prevents competition at home. Hence in a great many lines of manufacture, we have neither foreign nor home competition, and consumers, by reason of an unreasonably high tariff, are at the mercy of the trusts.

While the cost of living has greatly increased, it is also quite true, as Senator Scott, declared that some products are cheaper today than they were some years ago. This, however, is not the result of either a high tariff or a low tariff, but is because of the utilization of improved machinery and the greater abundance of new material necessarily cheapening some lines of manufactured products. If it were the tariff that cheapens American products, then the manufacturers are standing in their own light and doing something detrimental to their own interests by insisting on "protection, for as a matter of fact any school boy would know that it would really not be protection. The advocates of protection, therefore, should be consistent in their arguments, for they certainly are not contending for protection that doesn't protect.

As a matter of fact the United States have always been committed to the idea of protecting home industries while at the same time raising Government revenues by means of a tariff tax instead of a direct tax upon the people. In either instance, the tax is paid by the people the burden falling principally upon consumers, those consuming most paying most. The fiscal policy of this Government will remain as it is whether Republicans or Democrats are in power, but the Democratic party does aim to so reduce the tariff burdens that they will not crush the people to the benefit of the beneficiaries who are making millions as so much contributed by the people who are least able to bear it.

In making some comment on the argument of the Republican glass manufacturing Senator of West Virginia the New York Journal of Commerce says:

"Senator Scott, of West Virginia, who is the head of a glassmaking concern, and in favor of duties which will benefit capital in his own business, declared that glass pitchers which cost from three to four dollars a dozen before there was a duty on glassware can now be bought for $1.25 a dozen, and that tumblers which formerly sold for $2.50 a dozen are now selling for 11 cents a dozen, 'all owing to the protection that the Republican party has given us on glassware.' One would hardly suppose that the high prices which formerly prevailed for domestic glassware could be due to the fact that the products of cheap labor in Europe could be sold in this country free of duty. It seems more likely that in the infancy of the industry the processes were crude and production was on a small scale, relatively so abroad as well as here, and that it is an accumulation of capital, improvement of methods and extension of the scale of production that have brought down cost and manufactureds' prices. If we admit that protection against foreign competition may have helped to build up the industry until it can sell now so much more cheaply than before, it does not follow that it still needs the protection. Can Mr. Scott's 7 1-2-cent pitcher and his one-cent tumbler be 'made in Germany,' or any where else, and packed up and sent across the ocean and sold to dealers at less than his price to the same dealers?

"His statement and what follows in the colloquy with Senator Newlands seems to indicate that the manufacturer of this ware not only needs no portection from the duties but gets none. The 'protection' appears to be transferred to the wholesale and retail dealers in glassware, for he said that the pitcher which his concern sells for 90 cents a dozen is sold at retail for 40 or 50 cents apiece, or from $4.80 to $6 a dozen. This implies a huge profit for the jobber or the retailer, or both, and the Senator cited an example of a huge fortune made in the business of selling glassware at wholesale and retail. He declares that the one man whose experience he cited had in the last twenty-eight years, if he owns the premises that he occupies, made more money than 'all the glass manufacturers in the United States.' From this and the rest of the colloquy it would appear that the dealers and not the manufacturers get the benefit of the duties, which somehow enable them to charge high prices and make exorbitant profits. If this is so, the duties measure, not the difference in cost of production at home and abroad, "with a reasonable difference between the price at which the products are sold, and that at which the products are sold, not that at which they would be sold without the "protection', with a most unreasonable profit to the dealers. Is that really the effect of the protective duties, not to raise prices for the manufacturer and therefore to yield no benefit to him, but to enable wholesale and retail dealers to put up prices and get all the benefit out of the consumers?"

The contention of the Republican protectionists is that the wholesalers and retailers have combined on prices and get the benefit of protection. Then the protectionists in standing for protection is standing by the wholesale and retail dealers who are burdening the people with high prices, increasing the cost of living. Senator Gore, (Democrat) of Oklahoma, defends the wholesalers and retailers, and if the facts were investigated the wholesalers and retailers are selling goods at prices which the trusts sell to them with the understanding that if they do not get the prices fixed by the trusts they will not be furnished any of their manufactures. The jobbers and retailers can tell a good deal about it if they would .

OUR COMMERCIAL FACILITIES.

In an editorial contrasting Philadelphia with New York, the New Orleans Picayune illustrates what The Star said recently to the effect that after all city building depended on the enterprise of its own citizens. The Picayune says:

"Philadelphia, on the Delaware river, is a city possessing many natural advantages for commerce which could have been used to make it a rival of New York, but its inhabitants, like those of some other cities, lacked the enterprise to make the most of their advantages, and waited for strangers to do for them what they should do for themselves. The strangers did not turn up, and so Philadelphia, which is a great manufacturing city, is much behind in handling commerce.

"The Picayune has in times past remarked upon the wonderful enterprise of the people who live on the little Island of Manhattan, where, despite their extreme lack of room, they have established in their narrow limits the metropolis of the hemisphere, and they have made room for their population and their business by piling houses skyward, one upon the other, until story on story their structures wherein business is carried on reach up hundreds of feet above the ground on which they stand."

The point which our esteemed New Orleans contemporary makes is that Philadelphia did not take advantage of her natural commercial facilities while New York made the most of few facilities that were greatly circumscribed.

Let the citizens of Wilmington study the commercial facilities of Wilmington and develop them for all they are worth. The facilities of the port of Wilmington to handle freight by water and rail are not equalled by but few cities in this country, and yet imagine what a tremendous increase in those facilities our port will have when the Government gives us a 30-foot channel from the wharves to the sea.

Senator Money did his best to make New York's new Senator, Mr. Root, understand that with all of his alleged acquired and actual knowledge he had a heap to learn when he believed it was either a good thing or a possible thing to suppress debate on important and vital questions before the United States Senate. If it weren't for debate we should never have heard of Webster, Calhoun and Clay.

Mr. J. J. Hill, the railroad magnate, started it first by berating wind-jamming in the Senate, so the tariff bill could be rushed through as it stands in the interest of the protective grobbers. Senator Root quickly endorsing the Hill idea, which shows how Republicans take their cues from the special interest crowd.

President Taft, having looked over North Carolina Republicans, just couldn't have it in his heart to blame a man for sticking to the Democratic party.

A woman writer urges women to use a little art in managing their husbands. If a little art won't do it try a little artillery.

The boy who finds it awful hard to understand his lessons at school can interpret all this baseball jargon for you.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—We look for a distinct lack of public enthusiasm the next time it is proposed to have the tariff revised by its friends.—Chicago Record-Herald.

—A North Carolina paper proudly points to the advertisement for rent of a county jail in that State as proving that Prohibition prevents crime. Go slow, brother; Cain killed Abel before the distillation of ardent spirits was ever discovered.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

—Referring to the Eastern judgeship, Mr. B. F. Keith, collector of the port of Wilmington, deposes and says that "everything happens for the best." This leads the Greensboro Telegram to say "We never heard of one of the 'ins' who had the courage to find fault with the decisions of the chief pie-dispenser."—Raleigh News and Observer.

—Wilmington never fails to celebrate the 20th of May. This year, those of the people of that town who do not come to Charlote, will take a trip on Captain Harper's boat, to Carolina Beach, where the Red Men, three tribes, will conduct a celebration function, during the progress of which the sea waves may be sad, but the people will not.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—The pledge of the Republican party is for an honest and genuine revision of the tariff. This pledge is not inconsistent with the imposition of protective duties, but is in fact a reaffirmation that the protective system shall stand. But it means also that there shall be an overhauling of rates and a reduction of rates that are excessive. The people will not be misled into accepting any other meaning.—Washington Post.

—The litigation which has tied up the great Whitney development works on the Yadkin, The Chronicle learns will reach its finish within thirty days and the completion of the plant, upon which so much money has been expended, will be assured in the near future. The original plans of the Whitney Company may not be carried out in full, but the water power development will be completed in its entirety. Later, the industrial town may be developed. The founders of the whitney plant planned well and every dollar that has been invested there will be saved to the new owners of the plant. It was a business proposition from the start and the development of water power since work at Whitney has been at a standstill only shows what might have been but for the legal complications that arose at the very time when the success of the company seemed assured. The Whitney plant is going to be a great asset for Salisbury and that section of the State. The time has been long deferred, but it is coming.—Charlotte Chronicle.

TWINKLINGS.

—Johnny—Why do you want your father to be a detective? Freddy—Because a gumshoe wouldn't hurt so!—Puck.

—"I found hair in my soda water." "I guess the boy was careless about shaving that ice."—Washington Herald.

—"And is she engaged to the Count?" "Only tentatively. Nothing but an option has been paid yet."—Philadelphia Ledger.

—Encouragement.—Miss Emma, I love thee." 'Well, now you are down on your knees you may as well tie my shoe laces."—Fliegende Blatter.

—"What do you think of the present-day styles?" "I think they're all right. They enable a poor girl to look just as ridiculous as a rich girl."—Kansas City Journal.

—Mrs. Hyup—I was so disappointed in Dr. Pullen. Mrs. Hyer—In what respect? Mrs. Hyup—I understand he was a great bridge expert, but he was only a dentist.—Puck.

—Progress.—"Mister, you're wasting time sketching that old ruined bridge." "Indeed?" "Yes, there's a fine new steel bridge just a mile further on."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—The Christy Girl—How savagely that conductor wields his baton! The Harrison Fisher Girl (with a smothered yawn)—I can sympathize with him . He's trying to kill time.—Chicago Tribune.

—In a recent trial of a "bootlegger" in Western Kentucky a witness testified that he had purchased some "squirrel" whiskey from the defendant. "Squirrel whiskey?" questioned the court. "Yes, you know; that kind that makes you talk nutty and want to climb trees."—Everybody's.

—How do you desire to be uplifted?" is the question a writer in the New York Sun puts into the mouth of the Commissioner at the farmer's door. "Wal," replied Farmer Hayrick, "ye might start in by growing a better class of city boarder."—Youth's Companion.

—Lumberton Robesonian: Mr. Joshua Barnes, who lives between two and three miles east of Lumberton, has a little patch of strawberries that has been the source of a nice little income for the last two or three weeks and looks as though it will last for some time yet. Mr. Barnes has only one acre in berries, but they are of an extra variety and have been selling for a good price. Up until Wednesday he had sold about 75 crates from which he realized $3 per crate, after deducting shipping expenses. Mr. Barnes thinks he will realize $500 from this one acre of berries, which is making money some. Mr. F. J. Thomas, express agent, says that he has received several letters in the last few days from commission men at Richmond, Va., asking him to send them some of Barnes' berries. There is nothing like having the variety.

The Order of the Seraphim.

The Order of the Seraphim is the oldest and most famous of the decorations in the gift of the king of Sweden. Originally it was instituted by Magnus IV., some 600 years ago, to commemorate the siege of Upsala, the ancient capital of the Swedish kings, and its statutes bound the recipients of the order to fight to the death for the maintenance of their religion and to constitute themselves the special protectors of the widow and the fatherless. When it was revived about the middle of the eighteenth century by King Frederick the obligations laid upon the members were somewhat less onerous. The decoration consists of an eight pointed star in white enamel with cherubs' heads of gold and is worn on a broad band of pale blue ribbon.—Boston Transcript.

The Contrast.

The elderly bride regarded in the mirror her wreath of orange blossoms, her gown of ivory satin and old valenciennes and her long rope of perfect pearls.

"There's only one trouble about fine clothes," she murmured. "They make one's face look so shabby."—New York Press.

His Proof.

Judge—You have not yet established the prisoner's insanity. Attorney—But, your honor, we mean to introduce witnesses to show that the prisoner habitually argues politics with women.—Puck.

The Call of Companionship.

Translated.

"Habilliments For Infants" is a sign in a clothing store in Boston. A western visitor, seeing it, stopped in amazement.

"What does that mean?" he asked his better acquainted fellow westerner.

JAMES SPRUNT INSTITUTE

Commencement Exercises Concluded Wednesday Night—Sermon and Address—Graduating Essays and Features.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kenansville, N. C., May 19.—The exercises of the James Sprunt Institute commencement closed here last night, showing good results for the past year and splendid prospects for the future. On Sunday, May 16th, the baccalaureate sermon was preached by Rev. J. E. L. Winecoff, whose subject was "Think on These Things." On Monday, May 17th, the Senior class read their graduating essays, as follows:

"The Value of Poetry and Tradition in Preserving History."—Miss Hester Ann Farrior.

"The Nature Poet of North Carolina."—Miss Minnie Lee Herring.

"Civic Art."—Miss Clara Duffy Pugh.

"Advantages of a Musical Education."—Miss Susie Claudia Southerland.

"The Broadening of Woman's Sphere."—Miss Elizabeth Farrior Southerland.

"School Teachers in Literature."—Miss Florence Ann Teachey.

The essays were of high order and were generally admitted to be the best ever read at commencement exercises here. In addition to the diplomas, certificates of proficiency in music were issued to Miss Lucy Pullen, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Miss Claudia Southerland, of Kenansville, N. C.

On yesterday at 11 A. M. the annual address to the Senior Class was delivered in the chapel by Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, N. C. His speech was a practical talk on education, which was received with the highest praise by the audience, and was admitted to have been a strong argument in favor of popular education.

Last evening at 8:30 the exercises were closed by the final Annual Musical Concert, as follows:

1. Duet—"The Young Recruit"—Brookie Allsbrook, Gladys Council.
2. Trio—Waltz—Ruth Lowder, Estella James, Annie Wells.
3. Chorus—"Come Where the Blue Bells Ring."
4. Duet—"Silver Bells"—Hester Farrior, Lucy Southerland.
5. Reading—"Matrimonial Experiment."—Lucile Best.
6. Duet—"A Love Token."—Irene Kornegay, Jessie Croom.
7. Duet—"Rural Wedding."—Eugenia Herring, Lucile Best.

Part II.

8. Chorus—"Summer Hath Come Among Us."
9. Reading—"A Sunday Afternoon in the Cabbage Patch."—Mary Council.
10. Quartette—"Parade Review."—Piano I—Bettie Loftin, Rachel Maxwell; Piano II—Valeria Council, Winifred Turlington.
11. Trio—"Girard Gavotte."—Hester A. Farrior, Stella Butler, Agnes Council.
12. Reading—"Japanese Nightingale." (An original cutting)—Valera Council.
13. Quartette—"Grand Festival March."—Piano I—Lucy Pullen, Sallie Ferrell; Piano II—Susie Southerland, Mary Council.

The Theatre

There were more large audiences and much astonishment and wonderment yesterday at the Crystal Palace. "Mysterious Miss Jewell" as the star of this week's splendid bill did some more remarkable feats in Divination and cabinet seances.

Baseball Benefit.

Thursday, June 3rd, just two weeks from today, has been settled upon as the time, and the fitting time, for the big baseball benefit performance. So arrangements are now being pushed towards making the affair a big success upon the evening of that date. On account of the various school entertainments this week, and the May Musical Festival next week, it was decided to postpone the date for the benefit to June 3rd. Upon that date also the strong Wilson team opens its first series in Wilmington and this will add interest to the event, especially as the members of both the Wilson and Wilmington teams will occupy boxes for the performance, which will be given in the Academy of Music.

The programme for the performance has been mapped out and will shortly be announced. It is made-up of the very finest talent, both amateur and professional, in Wilmington and will prove the best vaudeville performance ever presented in Wilmington. A big feature will be a sketch by some of the talented members of the Wilmington team, and the quartet from the ranks of the Champions will also be on the boards for some of its sweetest selections.

In order to stimulate interest in the affair the management of the Wilmington team is to offer four season books for the sellers of the greatest numbers of tickets, which can be obtained upon application to DeRosset's book store. Two of the books will go to some boy and girl under sixteen years of age who sell the greatest number of tickets, or to two boys or two girls, however, the case may be, and the other two books will be awarded to persons over sixteen years of age. Then a fifth season book is to be given away to some lucky person who attends the performance.

Tickets are on sale for the benefit at Struthers', Baxter's, Mission Pharmacy and DeRosset's book store. Those wishing to enter the season ticket contest may call at DeRosset's.

REV. R. W. HOGUE HERE

Former Beloved Wilmington Rector Will Deliver Address This Evening.

Many Wilmington friends of the Rev. R. W. Hogue will be delighted to know that he has already arrived from Chapel Hill and this evening at the Academy of Music will deliver the commencement address for the graduating exercises of the Wilmington High School. Mr. Hogue came Tuesday evening and went down to Orton plantation where he spent yesterday and will come up to the city this afternoon after a couple of days of much needed rest and recreation. He will return to Chapel Hill Friday morning, having found it impossible to prolong his visit on account of having previously accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement sermon at St. Mary's on Sunday morning. The many friends of Mr. Hogue regret that his visit is so brief but will hear him with great pleasure this evening.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

The Knights of Columbus elegantly entertained Captain de Landa, officers and cadets from the Spanish steamer Eretza Mendi, at their hall on Third street again last evening, the affair having been one of rare pleasure for all who attended. Captain de Landa sang several Spanish songs and Mr. Alfredo de Sota, a nephew of one of the owners of the ship, who is on board as a cadet, gave a Toreador dance that was much appreciated, while other officers and cadets contributed to the fine programme. Mr. F. W. Banks and Mr. James Owen Reilly, of the Knights, also delighted the assemblage with vocal selection and remarks appropriate to the social session were made by Postmaster T. E. Wallace, Captain de Landa and others. It was an altogether pleasing affair in every respect.

King-Smith Nuptials.

At the home of the bride's mother, 515 Surry street, at 8 o'clock last night, Miss Lillie Smith was united in marriage to Mr. Frank King, a member of the firm of the Thomas Grocery Company, on Fourth street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. F. Hocutt, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist church, in the presence of only the members of the immediate family. Mr. and Mrs. King will leave on the early morning train for Charlotte, where they will attend the celebration there today. They will reside at 711 Red Cross street. Both have many frends who wish for them a long and happy life.

Hearing in Caveat Action.

Before Clerk of the Superior Court John D. Taylor yesterday a motion in the caveat action in the matter of the will of the late Henry W. Penny by which the son of the deceased, Walter T. Penny, is seeking the appointment of a private administrator of the estate in place of Joseph W. Little, Esq., who was designated to serve by the Clerk of Court, was argued. The appointment of Mr. Little was satisfactory to all the heirs except Mr. Penny, who was left only $1 by the terms of the will. The hearing was continued until a later date.

Goldsboro, N. C., May 19.—The Giants failed to make it three straights today, the game going to the Railroaders by the score of 3 to 1. Two out of three is a good enough record however, and the same "stunt" at Wilmington will no doubt place the Giants at the top of the percentage column. Features today were Crockett's three hits out of three times at the bat; James three-base hit and a pretty double hemp to Sullivan. Moran was put out of the game for kicking. Score:

FIRE AND POLICE COMMISSION

Officers and Members of Both Departments Are Elected—Changes in the Police—Contract to W. J. Penny & Co.

At a special meeting of the Fire and Police Commission held yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the Mayor's office at the City Hall, Chairman Wm. E. Springer presiding and Commissioners Barry, French and Woolvin in attendance, the officers and members of each of the departments under the supervision of the Commission were elected and the contract for uniforms for the police was awarded to W. J. Penny & Co., the lowest bidders under the recent proposals called for.

All the elections were unanimous, the Commission having recently given much time and thought to these matters in conference. The officers and members of the Fire Department were re-elected exactly as the force is now constituted but a number of changes were made in the Police Department. Chief Nathan J. Williams was unanimously re-elected to head the Department and Sergeant Chas. S. Burnett was unanimously chosen assistant chief in lieu of the captaincy and will have charge of the important duty of the men at night. Capt. Geo. W. Smith, who has been one of the most popular and efficient officers of the force at night, is elected first sergeant and given entire charge of affairs at the headquarters during the day, being the ranking sergeant. The other sergeants elected are Messrs. C. W. Woolard, E. J. Grimsley and Constable W. B. Savage, who, it is understood, will resign his position with the county, the vacancy to be filled by the Board of Commissioners at its next regular meeting.

Eight privates and Sergeant B. R. King, who has been on day duty, failed of re-election, and these eight vacancies on the force with those already existing by resignation and otherwise, are filled by the election of eight new men, the roster being as follows:

Privates—C. E. Wood, E. L. Smith, Leon George, E. R. Chadwick, J. H. Dew, W. C. Moore, A. D. Smith, M. A. Jones, J. R. Minshew, C. G. Jones D. W. Coleman, W. G. Brinkley, J. S. Lane, W. R. Applebury, Frank George, B. W. Jacobs, D. W. Willis, M. C. Huggins, H. P. Merritt, W. F. Craig, R. L. Rouse, H. W. Howell, M. C. Gray, T. G. Evans, all of whom are re-elected, and T. M. Hall, M. L. Moore, Chas. A. Bradshaw, Richard M. Saunders, A. L. Long, O. P. Stuckey, J. H. Davis, Duncan M. Saunders, who are new appointees.

Among the members of the present force who failed of re-election are Sergeant B. R. King, Alex Wells, I. F. Huggins, J. T. Smith, A. D. Woolard, W. R. Smith, J. B. Hall, E. H. Dement and J. F. Smith.

The elections take effect immediately and the new members of the force are notified to appear at police headquarters today at noon for the purpose of taking the oath and qualifying. The Commission gives notice that the Department will be thoroughly organized upon a business and civil service basis just as soon as possible and that a much greater efficiency will be required.

Chief Chas. Schnibben, Assistant Chief Monroe, the foreman, assistant foreman, superintendent of alarm and members of the Fire Department, just as at present constituted, were unanimously re-elected upon motion of Mr. French as a whole. This news will come with peculiar pleasure to the people of Wilmington who fully appreciate that there are no better fire fighters in the world than those embraced in the Wilmington Department.

The award of the police uniform contract to W. J. Penny & Co., was at $14.35 per suit, the lowest bid for 16-oz. Oak Mills broadcloth, coat and trousers, to be made by Jacob Read's Sons, of Philadelphia, who are uniformers for the Atlantic Coast Line. There will be 38 uniforms for officers and men. The contract for firemen's uniforms was left open and new bids will likely be called for.

EAGLES RE-LICENSED.

Grand Aerie Again Admitted to do Insurance Business in This State.

The officers of Carolina Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, were pleased yesterday upon receipt of information from Raleigh that the order has been re-admitted to the State and re-licensed to do an insurance business, having duly complied with all the requirements of Insurance Commissioner Young. The order was excluded some time ago by order of the Commissioner on account of some technical differences and the matter was at once taken up through the Grand Aerie for which William J. Bellamy, Esq., of this city, was of counsel. There were several conferences of the aeries in the State and one in Philadelphia with the result that all matters were satisfactorily adjusted and the order now stands on the same footing with all other fraternal insurance orders in North Carolina.

Outings at the Beach.

The Castle Haynes Road Sunday School, in charge of Mrs. W. A. Lineker, enjoyed a delightful outing at Wrightsville Beach yesterday as guests of the Tidewater Power Company, there having been 225 in the party and all having voted their sincere thanks to the company for its splendid hospitality. The Salvation Army also had its outing yesterday at Wrightsville Beach as the guests of the Tidewater people and carried down 80 from the city and about 20 from Delgado, who were not included in the Delgado Sunday School some days ago. All enjoyed a fine outing and were delighted with the excursion.

Recorder Dismissed Case.

There being no evidence upon which to convict her, the case against May Holmes, a white woman, arrested Tuesday morning on the charge of selling whiskey to Holbin Norris, a white man, was dismissed by the Recorder yesterday. It seems that Norris was too much intoxicated at the time of the alleged transaction to remember anything more than he got whiskey. The street he gave as being the one on which he purchased the whiskey from the defendant was not the one on which she lived. There was another case on the docket but it was continued until Friday on account of the absence from the city of the defendant's counsel. The case is against Ida George, colored, who is charged with allowing stock to run at large.

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

J. Hicks Bunting Offers Popular Medicine at Half Price.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., the popular druggists, are making an offer that is just like finding money for they are selling a regular 50-cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half-price. In addition to this large discount they agree to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is only recently, through the solicitation of Druggist J. Hicks Bunting that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents, they urged the proprietors to allow them to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified their good judgment for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headaches, dyspepsia, dizziness, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., will return your money.

The specific is very pleasant to take, coming in the form of small granules, and there are sixty doses in every package.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80. For thirty years Kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They're a godsend to weak, sickly run-down or old people. Try them. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

MAY MUSIC FESTIVAL.

Box Sheet Opens This Morning at Academy of Music—The Hours.

The box sheet for the great May Music Festival in Wilmington next week opens at 8 o'clock this morning at the Academy of Music and will remain open until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, instead of opening at 10 A. M. as has been erroneously announced. The box office will also be open from 4 to 7 o'clock this afternoon and parties who do not reserve seats during the morning hour may do so until 7 o'clock. All are asked to note these hours as there seems to have been some confusion about the matter. The Pittsburg Festival Orchestra was this week in Petersburg, Va., and was accorded the highest praise by the musical people and public generally in that city. The engagement here promises to be the most extraordinary musical event ever given in the city and it is earnestly hoped that the undertaking will be such a success that there will be encouragement to bring other organizations here in the future.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Kermon will make their home with her parents. Mr. Kermon is fireman on the steamer Murphy.

BERRY SESSON ON THE WANE

Shipments of 1909 Will Probably be About 1,250 Cars Against 1,094 Last Year—The Movement Yesterday.

According to the best information here the present week will witness the passing of the strawberry season of 1909 with a record of something like 1,250 cars handled during the shipping period against only 1,094 last year. It is stated that prices have averaged about $2.50 per crate of 32 quarts, but many regard this average as too high.

Up to last night 1,180 cars had been handled out of the territory and it is expected that this will be increased to 1,250 by the close of the season. Yesterday's shipments were about 20 cars, 11 of which were from the Chadbourn belt and 9 from the W. & W., while the movement through Rocky Mount yesterday consisted of 25 cars distributed thre each to New York, Newark, Boston; two each to Worcester, Pittsburg, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Elmira, and one each to Albany, Philadelphia, Springfield, Rochester, Washington and Harrisburg. It is stated that practically all the buyers have now left North Carolina for the Norfolk and Maryland markets though sales are still being made at the platform to local buyers.

On account of the change in the minimum car load of loading, it is hard to get at the actual volume of the crop by the number of cars, but the figures are quite interesting nevertheless.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

Regular Meeting Yesterday Afternoon. State Convention—Other Notes.

A largely attended meeting of Cape Fear Chapter, U. D. C., was held yesterday afternoon at the W. L. I. armory, Mrs. W. M. Parsley, the president presiding, and Mrs. Cuthbert Martin in attendance as recording secretary. Matters pertaining to the entertainment of the State Convention here in October were chiefly discussed and the Chapter received with much gratification an invitation from the Sorosis to entertain the visitors on one evening during their sojourn here, which invitation was readily accepted. It was decided to suspend the meetings during the Summer except upon call of the President after June 3rd when Jefferson Davis' brithday will be observed with a memorial service at the armory. The President in the meantime will appoint all necessary committees to have in charge the arrangements for the State Convention.

Other matters yesterday were chiefly routine but the meeting was one of the most enthusiastic yet held.

GEORGE DAVIS MONUMENT

Eminent Sculptor Here to Exhibit Model of Memorial at City Hall.

Mr. F. H. Packer, the eminent New York sculptor, who has been chosen to design the handsome bronze monument to be erected by the Daughters of the Confederacy to the memory of the late Mr. George Davis, has arrived in the city and is preparing a model of the statue which will be exhibited to persons interested, at the office of the Board of Audit and Finance, at the City Hall. The plans for the pedestal of the statue were drawn by Mr. Kenneth M. Murchison, the New York architect and Mr. Packer has prepared a second plaster cast of the monument, which will be submitted for approval of the George Davis Memorial Committee of the Daughters of the Confederacy, of which Mrs. Jane DeRosset is chairman. The work will be one of great art. All the money is in hand for the memorial but the Daughters would be pleased to receive donations, however small, for incidentals in connection with the erection of the monument.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: F. J. Gooding and wife to Josiah Cumber and wife, lot on corner Fourth and Harnett streets for $550; American Suburban Corporation, to A. Shrier, lot on Perry avenue, 33x113 feet, for $275; R. E. Macomber and wife to Thomas R. Mask and John E. Taylor for $100 and other considerations, lot fronting 50 feet on Chesnut street, being part of lot 1, block 479; the same parties purchased an adjoining lot from Edward H. Kidder, of New York; Geo. W. Kidder, of Wilmington, and Gilbert P. Kidder, of Seattle, Wash., trustees of the estate of the late Edward Kidder, for $200; J. H. Beery and wife, et al., to J. H. Hinton, lot on northeast corner of Market and Fifteenth streets, for $3,250.

Changes in Police Force.

Policeman Jesse Brown on Tuesday resigned his position as a member of the force and has taken a position as carpenter on the dredge Jacksonville, Captain Carlton, now at work on the Cape Fear. Policeman M. P. Newton is another resignation from the force and leaves soon for Danville, Va., which will be the home of the family in the future. Officer Newton resigned on account of the health of Mrs. Newton, who is a native of Danville and desires to return to the dryer climate there. Both Officers Newton and Brown were among the best men in the service and their loss to the department is great.

DR. DIXON AT UNION SCHOOL

Able Address in Connection With Children's Entertainment Yesterday—Strong Appeal for Education of Masses.

The school children's entertainment and the address of Dr. B. F. Dixon, State Auditor, at Union School yesterday were attended by an audience that filled almost every seat in the spacious auditorium, and both the exercises, which were unique, interesting and entertaining, and the very able and instructive address of the distinguished guest held the close attention of the assemblage.

The children's entertainment preceded the address of Dr. Dixon. The programme was as varied as it was interesting, and was executed in such a manner as to call for words of warmest commendation from those who composed the audience. The training of the children was thorough as was shown in the manner in which they carried out their parts.

The characters were as follows:
The Jolly Little Waiters.
A Natural Spell.
A Little Girl From the City.
A Geography Song—William Penny.
The Fairy of the Fountain.
Prince Clever—Greene.
Boy Blue—Clayton Grant.
Dame Bustle—Flossie Northrop.
Lilla—Louise Wise.
Fluta—Dorothy Nash.
Bo-Peep—Hattie Pemberton.
Fairy—Adelaide Worth.
Hunters—Clewell Howell, Maurice Moore, Harry Burr and Louis Williams.

Dr. Dixon Speaks.

Dr. Dixon, who, thanks to circumstances, was a visitor at the entertainment and delivered one of the most interesting educational addresses heard here in some time, was especially welcome just at this time when the entire county is aroused over the subject of education. The speaker's remarks were brief and to the point and will no doubt result in much good for the bond issue proposition now pending before the voters of the county.

John D. Bellamy, Jr., Esq., had the pleasure of introducing the guest and he did so in a few appropriate words. Dr. Dixon said that he was glad to be in Wilmington—the City by the Sea—a grand old town, and that it should be regarded by those who live here as the best place on earth for a man to reside. He believed that North Carolina was the best State in the Union and that its people could accomplish anything they desired to. The truly American people are found south of the Mason and Dixon line and the pick are found in North Carolina, and the people of Wilmington think this the choicest place in the State.

Are you going to live up to your traditions? he asked. There are two important things which go to make up the man equipped for life's battles and these are: Blood, surroundings and education. The speaker devoted some time in showing that the blood, the pure stuff, as he put it, is here and the surroundings such as to bring out the best there is in the child, but that the North State is sadly behind in the matter of education of the masses, although wonderful strides have been made since the inauguration as Governor of that prince of North Carolinians, Charles B. Aycock, who awakened the dormant spirit in the people and aroused them to the realization of the necessity of looking after the mental development of the "stone-bruised" country lad.

Any man who stands in the way of the education of the masses of the people should have his head put down in mud and stay there until the procession passes. When you talk education people begin to cry out against the cost. The mention of taxes, no matter for what purpose, always causes strong opposition. The most pitiful sight in the State today is the many big boys who are not given a chance to develop that which is in them. God doesn't make mistakes—He has given us the boys and girls who are capable of thinking and acting, but some of us are keeping them down.

The speaker tried to impress upon the minds of his hearers that spirit of education that stops at nothing in its effort to provide for the children of the land. He pictured the brilliant future that the Southland has before it provided its citizenship is developed to its highest extent through education. The 24,000,000 people in the South are the richest and most contented in the world and the future has untold possibilities for its citizens. The only thing that could prevent it from entering the front ranks is the illiteracy of its people.

The speaker spoke in a general way of the vital importance of education but his remarks, in view of the special election on the bond issue to be held in this county next week, had a decidedly local application. His splendid address was well received by the entire audience.

PROMINENT FISHING PARTY.

Bishop Cheshire Guest of Mr. John F. Garrell For Outing on River.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Joseph Blount Cheshire, of Raleigh, who has been on a three-days' fishing trip up Town Creek as the guest of Mr. John F. Garrell, of this city, left last night for his home, carrying with him the very best evidences of a most successful trip in the form of a fine lot of fresh water trout and other fish. Other members of the party, guests of Mr. Garrell, were Rev. T. A. Smoot, Dr. D. W. Bulluck and Capt. Haywood Clark, all of this city.

SENIOR CLASS EXERCISES

Impressive Scene on High School Campus Late Yesterday Afternoon. Medal Contest in Elocution Department Last Night.

The campus of the Wilmington High School presented a pretty and impressive scene late yesterday afternoon when the very interesting class day exercises of the Seniors took place in the presence of a large gathering. This is one of the features of the closing of the High School and is always looked forward to by not only the pupils but many others as well.

The programme was varied as is customary on such occasions ranging from the serious to the humorous and covering every phase of student life during the existence of the class.

The pupils of the school formed in the school building at 5:30 o'clock and as the orchestra rendered a selection they marched to the campus in the following order: Freshman Class, No. 1, Freshman No. 2, Freshman No. 3, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors. Each class was headed by its president, who carried the class banner. The pupils circled around the campus and took seats that had been reserved for them.

When the members of the different classes had been seated Mr. Paul Lupo, president of the Senior class, delivered the address of welcome, following which the class history was read by the historian, Miss Carrie Toomer. The reading of the history is always awaited with pleasure as the historian records all the achievements of the individuals, recites the trials through which members have reached the glad graduating time with here and there a few references to the humorous side of the school days.

Miss Irene King in a short paper presented to the school a bas relief of sacred singers to be placed in the school building beside the gifts of former classes. The gift was gracefully accepted in behalf of the school by Superintendent Blair.

A recitation, "A Peculiar Attack," was charmingly given by Miss Madge Brand, after which Mr. Nick Post read an essay on the "Famous Men of Wilmington," which was of historical interest. Rising, the entire school sang "Springtime," this being followed by the ever enjoyable class prophecy, which was by the prophet, Miss Mary Owen Green. She took a peep into the distant future and saw each of her class mates after they had settled down to life's work. The prophet performed her part well and caused many hearty laughs. The class poem was recited in a splendid manner by the poet, Miss Mary Riley.

Probably the most impressive incident in connection with the exercises was the burning of the old books, which were placed upon the pyre as the students marched solemnly around the fire. This concluded, the class will was read by Miss Lucile King and it was a gem. "Swallows" was rendered very effectively by Miss Lucile Riley to violin and piano accompaniment by Misses Annabel Campbell and Lucile Cavenaugh respectively.

The planting of the ivy by Miss Florence Wessell after which the class song was given by the Seniors, the programme concluding with "Auld Lang Syne at School" by the school.

Much of the credit for the excellent manner in which the exercises were carried out is due to Miss Fredericka Jenkins, the efficient teacher of history for the past three years, who was in charge of the arrangements for the exercises.

Annual Elocution Contest.

The auditorium of the High School building was crowded to capacity last night when the annual elocution contest took place for medals. The programme was bright and interesting and not a number failed to please the large audience. Two medals were offered, one of gold by Mrs. James Sprunt to the young lady attaining greatest excellence and the other, a silver medal, by the school committee, to the young man considered deserving of highest honors in elocution. The judges last evening were Miss Hattie Taylor, Miss Kittie Allen, of Wilmington, and Mr. C. H. Carpenter, of Erie, Pa. At the close of the recital Supt. Blair announced that the judges would retire and decide upon the winners and that in the interim selections would be rendered on the piano by some of the pupils. When the judges announced that they had agreed the contestants were seated upon the stage. Supt. Blair presented Dr. B. F. Dixon, of Raleigh, who delivered the medals to the successful contestants, that for the young ladies to Miss Eunice Andrews, who recited "The Mountain Tragedy" (Dickens) and that for the young men to Avon Blue, whose selection was Sohrab and Rustum (Arnold.) The points considered in the award to Miss Andrews were her splendid voice, delicate shading and wonderful versatility and control; to the young man, as Dr. Dixon said in making the presentation, "he had the voice of an orator and would no doubt be heard from again." Dr. Dixon complimented the young men and young ladies who took part in the programme stating that the rendition of all the numbers was of an exceptionally high order.

Others who entered the contest and their selections were: "The Confederates Are Comin'." (Stockdale) Vaughn Smith; "Pyramus and Thisbe" (A Parody), Miss Vera Furlong; "The Last Word," (VanDyke), Miss Lucy Behrends; "Virginia of Virginia," (Rives), Miss Annie Leah Mercer; "Absolution," (E. Nesbit) Miss Hazel Miller; "Dr. Lanyon's Story" (Stevenson) Miss Annie Futch; "Too Late for the Train" (Anon) Miss Anna Cavenaugh; "Arthur's Farewell" (Tennyson) Miss Madge Brand; "King Robert of Sicily," (Longfellow) Miss Mary Owen Green.

These were interspersed with musical numbers delightfully rendered as follows: Piano solo, selected, Miss Jessie Lupo; violin soo, selected, Miss Annabel Campbell, and a voca solo, selected, by Miss Lucile Riley.

The young people were trained by Mrs. Curtiss Arnall-North and they gave evidence last night, not only of remarkable talent but excellent instruction.

The Exercises Today.

Today at Hemenway School there will be an exhibition of the work all day and an elocution contest at 12:15 P. M. The graduating exercises of the High School will take place in the Academy of Music this evening at 8:30 o'clock when the address will be by Rev. R. W. Hogue, of Chapel Hill.

DAY WILL BE OBSERVED HERE

Number of Events Scheduled for Celebration of 20th.—Red Men at Carolina Beach—W. L. I. Outing and Baseball.

Today, the 20th of May, will be generally celebrated in Wilmington, though of course not on such an elaborate scale as in Charlotte to which place thousands of North Carolinians and many from other States have journeyed for the day's festivities.

Many of the business houses of the city have agreed to close for the day, the Court House offices will not be open and holiday hours will be observed at the postoffice, which means that there will be only one delivery and collection of mail by the carriers. The stamp window will be open only from 8 to 9 A. M. and from 5 to 6 P. M.; the general delivery window from 9 to 10:30 A. M. and 6 to 7 P. M., while the registry and money order department will be closed all day.

A variety of events are scheduled and there will be something to attract and amuse almost every hour during the day. The big celebration at Carolina Beach under the auspices of the three local tribes of the Improved Order of Red Men, will attract a large crowd from the city, and fun in abundance is promised. The steamer Wilmington will make three trips down the river on account of the ocasion. The boat leaves the wharf as follows: 9:30 A. M., 2:30 P. M. and 7:30 P. M. The boat returns to the city on the last trip at 12 o'clock tonight.

The annual outing of the members of the Wilmington Light Infantry will take place at Wrightsville Beach. The first event of the day will be the annual rifle contest for the company medal now held by Private E. C. Dickinson. This will begin about noon and will continue until about 4 o'clock over a 200-yard range just west of Lumina, at a regulation round target. In addition to the regular company shoot there will be a number of team contests and other practices of an interesting nature. At night the military souvenir dance will be given and this promises to be a brilliant affair. Light refreshments will be served and the public is cordially invited to join the citizen-soldiers in the pleasant affair. The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of Lieutenants P. L. Cantwell, J. B. Lynch and Sergeant Z. K. Bell.

The baseball game in the afternoon will doubtless be witnessed by a tremendous crowd. The team reached the city on an accommodation train late last night and a great crowd will journey out to the park this afternoon.

First will come the ceremonies of raising the pennant and the formalities of tossing the first ball by Mayor MacRae. Howard will probably be in the box for the Sailors. The Tidewater Power Co., has arranged to handle large crowds and patrons of the game are advised to buy their tickets either on the grounds or on the cars going out as the gatekeepers will be on duty at the park to admit to the cars after the game is over. Tickets will also be sold on the grounds, round trip to the beach, for 30 cents. Tickets for the baseball game are on sale at the Gerken Tobacco Co., Struther's Cigar Store and the Wilmington Cigar Co., on Princess street.

OVERTAXED.

Hundreds of Wilmington Readers Know What It Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed;
Have too much to do.
They tell about it in many aches and pains—
Backache, sideache, headache,
Early symptoms of kidney ills.
Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

Mrs. M. W. Moore, 510 Princess St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I cannot say too much in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills as I never used a remedy that gave me such good results. I suffered from dull, nagging backaches which made it impossible for me to assume a comfortable position. I was also caused much annoyance by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box from Robert R. Bellamy's drug store and began taking them. They soon cured me and I have had no kidney trouble since. I have told several of my friends about Doan's Kidney Pills and will continue to recommend them whenever I have an opportunity."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Cool Thief.

One summer afternoon an exceptionally well dressed stranger was seen to enter the front gate of a house in a wealthy neighborhood. He walked to the door and tried to open it with a key. As he could not do so he went around to a window and, pushing it open, climbed in through it. It was a suspicious proceeding, but as the man was dressed in the height of fashion the officer on the beat thought that it was the owner of the house, who, having forgotten his key, had used the window as his means of entrance. However, the officer thought it best to watch the place for awhile to see if anything out of the way might occur. A short time later, emerging from the front door, the stranger stopped as if some one had spoken to him from within, and, saying "Yes, Bess, I have my key this time," he lifted his hat and walked slowly away. Some hours later, when the real owner of the house returned, the policeman learned that his first suspicions had been correct, for the well dressed stranger had walked off with the jewelry and everything of value that he could lay his kid gloved hands upon.—Chicago Tribune.

WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE USING

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Samose, the great flesh forming food. The wonderful sale on this preparation since first introduced in Wilmington and the remarkable results following its use have made J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samose that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company have seen so many of their customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons become plump and well, solely through the use of Samose that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, makes good rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate the food and makes the user plump, well and rosy.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Sanford Express: A party of fishermen caught a rock fish at Buckhorn Falls Friday which weighed 35 pounds and measured three feet. Very few rock fish have been caught in the waters of the Cape Fear in years. Taey are considered very fine fish.

—Charlotte Chronicle: Charlotte never had a better railroad service than at the present time. On the Seaboard there are twelve passenger trains in and out a day and on the Southern twenty, making 32 a day, or more than a train an hour.

—Rockingham Post: Mr. Reid Whitford, U. S. assistant engineer, has completed the survey of the Pee Dee river from Blewett's Falls to Cheraw, S. C. Mr. Whitford found that river navigation would be obtainable only at considerable cost and would probably require a lock and dam.

—Fayetteville, May 18.—Archie White, a negro, was run down by an Atlantic Coast Line train between Fayetteville and Hope Mills about 11 o'clock last night while walking the ties and seriously injured. White was brought to his home in this city this morning and later taken to a hospital where his arm was amputated.

—Kinston Free Press: The Governor has ordered a special term of Superior court for Jones county to convene June 7th. On account of an epidemic of smallpox, the regular term of the court was not held. Accordingly all witnesses, parties, jurors, etc., summoned to appear at the regular term, will be required to attend the special term.

—Rockingham Post. Political speculation for next year has already begun. It is rumored that Congressman Page will be a candidate for re-election. It is also reported that Hector McLean, of Scotland county; Frank Armfield, of Union county; Senator Foster Hankins, Davidson county, and two solicitors, Robinson and Hammer, would like the job. Since the salary rose to $7,500 a year it is a soft berth and a nice one.

—Rockingham Anglo-Saxon: Col. Dan Morrison was down in Cumberland county last week and he came across a very prolific family. A Mr. Jones, son of Mr. Reuben Jones, who once kept the Purcell House in Wilmington, is the father of thirteen living children. Mr. Jones has only been married six years—five pair, and the last three were triplets. No wonder Cumberland county is growing in population.

—Statesville Mascot: The special election at Taylorsville Saturday to levy 30 cents on $100 and 10 cents on poll for school purposes carried by a large majority, the vote being 92 for and 10 against special tax. This is the second special tax district for Alexander county, the other one being at Stony Point. It is understood that the Baptist College building will be used for school purposes for a while at least.

—Lexington, May 18.—This morning, William Bowers, a well fixed farmer, was struck by an engine and killed. His team was crossing the railway tracks at the Lake, near Lexington. He was 63 years old, and leaves a wife and three children. His son, Marvin, is a student at Wake Forest. A freight train had just passed, which was closely followed by a light engine, which caught the team, killing same and breaking the wagon. Mr. Bowers was worth considerable money.

—Moore County News: The dewberry prospect around Carthage is the finest we ever had, and the growers are very enthusiastic. The indications are that there will also be bumper crops of peaches and grapes. Dewberry and peach shipments will begin about the first of June. H. A. Foote and Neill McKay will ship early peaches. It is now estimated that the Randolph & Cumberland Railroad will handle not less than 50 cars of berries and fruit this season. This will mean the bringing of many thousands of dollars into our midst.

—Salisbury Post: Charles Lane the Rural Hall young man who was in Salisbury early in the month looking for his faithless wife, who had eloped with his brother, was here again yesterday, this time with his wife. He found her in Concord, where she had been abandoned by his brother and brought her to Salisbury yesterday morning. They left on the Western train for Rural Hall. When the train pulled out the head of the recreant spouse was resting upon her husband's shoulder and he appeared supremely happy over the cast-off possession.

—Raleigh, May 19.—Three persons who were bitten by a mad cat have come to the city from Caldwell county to take the Pasteur treatment under Dr. Shore at the State Laboratory of Hygiene. On Saturday night two boys, William Bane, aged 12, and his cousin, Howard Kennedy, aged 6, were attacked and badly bitten by the family cat. On Sunday morning the same cat became ferocious and attacked Mrs. Bane, biting her severely on the hand. The cat was immediately killed and its head was brought to Raleigh to be examined. Upon examination, it was found that the animal was mad.

—Concord Times: Mr. J. L. Shinn has near his place at Georgeville a rack across Buffalo creek, which is used to catch fish during high waters. The rack is in a branch which opens into the creek. During the high waters fish go up the branch and just before the water begins to fall the gate is shut down and the fish cannot get back. When the water recedes they are left high and dry and are then taken out. On Monday of last week Mr. Shinn caught 60 pounds of fine German carp. The average weight of the fish was about six pounds, though some of them weighed as much as nine pounds.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 19.—Today's cotton market was very active and excited with prices making new high records for the season and with the close firm at a net advance of 15 to 24 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 7 points in response to higher cables than expected but at first seemed to be nervous and unsettled as the result of realizing by old longs and local bear pressure which was probably encouraged by talk of improved crop conditions in the southwest as a result of recent rains. During the early session prices eased off to a net loss of about 1 to 2 points, with the new crop positions relatively easy, but there were big buying orders on a scale down and it looked as though a few very powerful interests whoever they might be, were willing to take everything offering around 10.90 for July and 10.72 for October. This demand so readily absorbed offerings as to render early sellers very uneasy and during the afternoon although there was no change in the news the market became very firm and active on general covering and re-buying by old bulks who had taken profits earlier in the week. The early buyers seemed the only ones who had any cotton for sale on the advance, and before the upward movement was checked May contracts had sold at 11.40, July at 11.18, October at 10.95 and December at 11.00, or 20 to 27 points net higher. The close was 3 or 4 points off from the top on the old crop months as a result of realizing but within a point or two of the best on later positions, which showed evidence of continued support. Some authorities were inclined to think that rains reported in eastern and central sections of the belt offset such relief from drouth as had been secured in the southwest, but generally speaking private crop advices seemed a little more encouraging.

Southern spot markets officially reported early were unchanged to 1-8c higher.

Receipts at the ports today were 18,471 bales against 15,520 last week and 7,247 last year. For the week 85,000 bales against 99,008 last week, and 53,228 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 9,732 bales against 1,956 last year, and at Houston 961 bales against 482 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 1,165; middling gulf 11.90; no sales.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 19.—The dry goods market shows signs of broadening a little under the influence of better trade reports and the sustained prices of raw material like wool and cotton. Jobbers have been doing a little better spot trade and the Fall business is reported as satisfactory to date. Knit goods and hosiery in first hands remain quiet. A tacit agreement had been reached by some agents not to show little underwear for Spring before June 7. Printed goods are now selling better in the primary market. Bleached goods are firm with a light spot trade passing. Drills, sheetings and printcloths are held firm.

MARKET GOSCIP.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 19.—The stock market has rarely met the death of a capitalist of foremost prominence with as little disturbance as was caused by the sudden death this morning of H. H. Rogers. It was concluded from this that there was little ground for the anxiety professed for several days past that the speculative position had become unstable and vulnerable. From passive resistance to depression the tone passed to positive strength. Prices have suffered more serious set backs often on rumors of Mr. Rogers' death or serious illness than happened today. Mr. Rogers has represented the figure of the vaguely definied Standard Oil Group which is the most potent of the most dimly apprehended forces which work concealed from view and supposedly armed with the most complete knowledge of conditions and control over their regulation. The sudden removal of such a force may have disastrous consequences to a speculative position. The extreme effect today was measured by a decline of 1 3-8 in the price of shares of Amalgamated Copper of which company Rogers was president and of 2 1-8 in Consolidated Gas and one in St. Paul in which the was a director. The reason for this imperturbility quickly came to be understood in the general withdrawal of Mr. Rogers from stock exchange operations of late years. His engrossment with his pet project of the Virginian Railway diverted all his attention. United States Steel of which Mr. Rogers was a director was conspicuously strong today rising through its previous record price of 58 3-4 to 59 3-4. C. & O. at 89 also touched a price never reached before by that stock. The movement in steel was attributed to the restoration of wages by the independent steel companies and the inferences drawn from that action as to the returning profits of the industry even at the lower prices at which the recent heavy order have been booked. News from the copper trade continued very encouraging.

Crop news are considered favorable in sympathy of which the rise in the price of wheat.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, were $4,772,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today were 812,700 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Time loans dull and easier; 60 and 90 days 2 1-4 to 2 1-2 per cent., six months 3 to 3 1-4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3 1-2 to 4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8640 to 4.8650 for 60 day bills, and at 4.8780 for demand. Commercial bills 4.85 3-4 to 4.86 1-4. Bar silver 52 5-8. TAFT AT UNVEILING the great throng in the growing shadows of dusk the scene about him was one of unique and picturesque interest. The President and a score of distinguished guests had eaten a late lunch on the wide veranda of Center Hill Mansion, the home of Charles Hall Davis, president of the Petersburg Chamber of Commerce, while a thousand others dined at turf-covered tables under the towering old trees on the lawn. There were several after-luncheon speches from the veranda and then the President and the guests proceeded to the rear lawn which had been thrown open to the public. The crowd over-spread the lawn for a hundred yards or more in each direction. Far beneath the slopes of the grassy little promontory, on the streets beneath the wall surrounding the mansion grounds, the colored residents of the community were gathered by thousands. They spread fan-like for two blocks in each diverging direction.

Governor Swanson expressed to the President the regret felt everywhere that illness had prevented Mrs. Taft from coming to Petersburg.

The day which will long be remembered in the history of Petersburg was brought to a close tonight with a lawn fete and reception on the Center Hill grounds. The President and his party left late tonight for Charlotte, N. C., where Mr. Taft tomorrow will attend the Mecklenburg celebration.

The Shillalah.

The shillalah owes its name to the fact that the finest specimens thereof used to be grown in the pleasant groves of trees that formerly flourished in the barony of Shillalagh, in County Wicklow. The best shillalah must be a root sprung sapling, for one taken from the branches of a full grown tree would lack the necessary toughness. Being trimmed and "brought to hand," the young stick undergoes preparatory discipline by being placed in the chimney to season, thus becoming early acclimatized to the hot work in store for it. This part of the curriculum finished, it is rubbed until completely saturated with oil, after which it is securely wrapped in a stout sheet of brown paper and buried in a convenient hotbed. At this stage of its development it is an object of unceasing watchfulness on the part of its proprietor, who to forestall any detrimental warp in the object of his care visits it daily, correcting any youthful tendency to depart from a straight line and ultimately securing as straight a bit of timber as heart could desire.—New York Tribune.

Hot Scotch.

The young wife dipped the ladle into the porridge and smiled inquiringly at the overnight guest.

"Will you have some hot Scotch, Mr. Dash?" she asked.

Dash laughed.

"Hot Scotch? Where is it?" said he.

"Why, here, of course," said the young wife in a perplexed tone. "Didn't you know that oatmeal is called hot Scotch?"

"Er—I"— Dash stammered, and then the young husband caught his eye, and he was silent.

"I didn't know it myself till last year," she explained. "I heard George inviting his cousin over the telephone to meet him at the office and have a hot Scotch. I didn't know what hot Scotch was till you told me, did I, George?"

George, very red, answered huskily: "No, my dear."

The vicissitudes of Leonardo da Vinci's picture, "Last Supper," reminds a correspondent of the strange experiences of Holbein's "Field of the Cloth of Gold," which may be seen any day at Hampton Court palace. After the downfall of Charles I., Cromwell in order to raise funds proposed the sale of certain pictures, this among the number. The bargain was already made, but when the would be purchaser came to inspect Holbein's masterpiece he discovered that the head of Henry VIII. had been cut from the canvas. He naturally withdrew his offer, and the picture was preserved to the nation. On the restoration a nobleman confessed to having committed the theft for love of art and his country, and he returned the missing head, which now occupies its original position in the canvas. The circle made by the knife is still plainly visible.—London Chronicle.

Cold Storage Rats.

The attendant came out of the cold storage room with an awed look.

"Rats are wonderful," he said. "We thought modern plumbing would abolish them, but they live in the clean light and dryness of the best modern plumbing more comfortably than they did in the damp and filth and darkness of the past. We thought the modern ship would abolish them, but the Lusitania has as many rats as had the Columbus caravels. And here"—

He made an awed gesture.

"And here I find rats in our cold storage rooms at temperatures that freeze the breath and cause it to fall in the form of snow. To and fro they prowl. Their coats are thick and warm like fur, and, with frost on their whiskers, they feed heartily on meat and game frozen to rocklike hardness."

A Division of Purpose.

Some years ago the Yankee schooner Sally Ann, under command of Captain Spooner, was beating up the Connecticut river. Mr. Comstock, the mate, was at his station forward. According to his notion of things the schooner was getting a "leetle" too near certain mud flats which lay along the larboard shore. So aft he went to the captain and, with his hat cocked on one side, said:

"Cap'n Spooner, you're getting a leetle too close to them flats. Hadn't you better go abeout?"

The captain glared at him.

"Mr. Comstock, jest you go for'ard and tend to your part of the skuner. I'll tend to mine."

Mr. Comstock went for'ard in high dudgeon.

"Boys," he bellowed out, "see that that er mud hook's all clear for lettin' go."

"Aye, aye, sir!"

"Let go, then!" he roared.

Down went the anchor, out rattled the chains, and like a flash the Sally Ann came luffing into the wind and then brought up all standing. Mr. Comstock walked aft and touched his hat.

"Well, cap'n, my part of the skuner is to anchor."—Everybody's.

Men Should Brush Their Hair More.

"Very few men brush their hair enough," said a downtown barber. "Fact. Most ills of the scalp can be traced to that fault. You see it's this way: A man is generally in a hurry when he dresses, and he never takes time to brush his hair—simply smooths it down, generally only with a comb—and as a result dandruff is allowed to accumulate and trouble begins. Now, with a woman it's different. A woman has to carefully brush her hair at least once a day. If she didn't it would be a pretty mess. It's very length saves her, for in brushing it each day she gets out all sorts of impurities, dandruff and the like, all of which is for her own good. Now, that is the chief reason why fewer women suffer from dandruff than the unfortunate members of the opposite sex, and it is also the reason why the hair is a woman's crowning glory even if she is fair, fat and forty. So brush your hair every morning thoroughly if you want to keep in the swim."
